

One of a Kind

Words and Music by: Cameron Moten

Lyrics:

Look at the pages of the magazine,
Look at the figures dancing on the screen,
Telling me what to look like and who I need to be
But what if I want to just be me

Cause I'm one of a kind, a limited edition,
And it's not in my mind, I am one of a kind
I am one of a kind, and I don't need permission,
To be who I am inside, won't cover it up and hide,
Cause, I'm one of a kind (I am one of a kind)

What would it take to truly be myself
To be an original not someone else
I'm making a choice to simply live in my own skin
To be who I truly am within

Cause I'm one of a kind, a limited edition,
And it's not in my mind, I am one of a kind
I am one of a kind, and I don't need permission,
To be who I am inside, won't cover it up and hide,
Cause, I'm one of a kind (I am one of a kind)

*I'm an original grand masterpiece
The one and the only to ever be me
If we find our identity together we all can sing*

We are one of a kind, limited edition,
And it's not in our mind, we are one of a kind
We are one of a kind, and we don't need permission,
To be who we are inside, —
We are one of a kind, limited edition,
And it's not in our mind, we are one of a kind
We are one of a kind, and we don't need permission,
To be who we are inside, won't cover it up and hide,
We are one of a kind, we are one of a kind, (together)
One of a kind (each and every one,) we are one of a kind.
